Liquor Store Is Robbed 5th Time

Lone Armed Man Gets Several Hundred Dollars At Newman's, Madison

A lone bandit armed with a small caliber automatic pistol robbed the Newman Liquor store at Seventh street and Madison avenue at 8:20 p.m. Tuesday, escaping with several hundred dollars from the cash register and $13 taken from a customer.

Mrs. Edna Newman, proprietor, said the store has been robbed within the past two years. On one occasion a holdup man escaped with between $4000 and $5000.

Mrs. Newman said the man ordered a half-pint of whiskey after entering the store, then asked Mrs. Newman if she knew him. He then took out a gun and announced, "This is a holdup."

After removing the money from the cash register he took $13 from a customer, Thomas Redler, 2014 Madison avenue, and ordered Mrs. Newman and Redler into a washroom.

There he took at least four bottles of whiskey from the backbar. Mrs. Newman said she also believed the bandit took several cartons of cigarettes.

The bandit was described as about six feet, two inches tall, stocky built, and wearing a dark coat and a black hat.

Mrs. Newman said she did not know how much money was in the cash register, but it would approximate at least several hundred dollars.

The office was ransacked, money sacks were cut open, cigars, candy and pinball machines were forced open in a burglary at the Tri-Motor Boat Co. reported at 6:45 a.m. Wednesday. Entry was gained by forcing the hinges off of the door of the delivery chute and by knocking pins from the office door.

Oliver Bonds, St. Louis, reported that a white-over-blue 1960 four-door auto was stolen from the American Steel Industries lot after 6 a.m. Tuesday.

Plymouth Gray, 2014 Madison avenue, notified police today that his auto was stolen last night while parked outside his home.

Junior College Supported by Most At Public Hearing

Nineteen speakers urged creation of the proposed Class I junior college district for this area during a public hearing conducted by the Illinois Junior College Board Wednesday night at Edwardsville Junior high school.

Only one speaker, Karl Monroe, Collinsville newspaper publisher, presented arguments against the proposal, maintaining that a survey of high school students in the district showed that they are not interested in attending junior college, and that the development of the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus as a community college was designed to fit current needs.

Another speaker, Arthur Grist, president of the SIU-SW staff, said that the proposal does not go far enough and should include the poverty areas of St. Clair county.

Recommendation Made
Following a three-hour hearing before 87 persons, Kenneth Lemmer said he will present a summary of last night's hearing, called according to law, to the higher board, which then is expected to authorize a referendum on the proposal.

The proposed district includes eight counties, covering all of Madison, Calhoun, Jersey and Macoupin counties and adjacent school districts in Bond, Greene and Montgomery counties and that part of the Calhounville school district situated in St. Clair county.

$1.1 Billion Valuation
According to the findings of the junior college board, which approved the petition containing 2000 to 3000 signatures and a feasibility study prepared by an SIU-SW team, the district contains a population of 290,000 and has a total qualified assessed valuation of not less than $1.1 billion.

Suggested tax rates of 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation for educational purposes and 10 cents for real estate and building purposes would provide $1,650,000 a year for educational purposes and $1.1 million for buildings.

It pointed out that the principal needs which would be met would be:

A two-year college curriculum paralleling that given at most four-year colleges and providing courses in the liberal arts and sciences and general education.

A technical and vocational program of great breadth and to include courses in the occupational, semi-technical or technical fields.

Former GC Man Named Speaker Of House

Gov. Kerner Proposes Reorganization of Govt.

State Rep. Ralph T. Smith, Republican of Alton and former resident of Granite City, was elected speaker of the Illinois House yesterday as the General Assembly went into its 72th session at Springfield.

The Republicans, with majorities in both branches of assembly, elected W. Russell Arrington of Evanston as Senate President Pro Tempore, Representative Smith formerly lived in Granite City and is a brother of Mrs. Isabelle Schmidt, 214 Delmar avenue.

Several hours after opening assembly formalities, Gov. Otto Kerner told the new legislature that education and government reorganization are the two major issues facing the General Assembly in its 1967 session.

As principal legislative objectives, he called for the elimination of most elective state administrative offices, a new minimum state wage law and an increased state police force.

Dixon Minority Whip
Democratic legislators chose State Rep. John T. Dixon of Belleville as minority whip and Senator Thomas McClell of Chicago as minority leader. In the House, Democrats chose State Rep. John T. Dixon of Belleville as minority leader and State Rep. Clyde Chouteau of Anna as minority whip.

Kerner's eight-page message contained no surprises. He said that in an effort to make the legislative and executive branches of the government stronger all executive offices in Illinois—except the governor and lieutenant governor—should be abolished, and that referendums should be held as soon as possible on the issues of annual legislative sessions and the apportionment of seats in the House.

He added that a majority of the council had no dispute over the legality of the contract, but the group was not satisfied with the firm, and the only way to act was to cancel the contract. Bartosik contended the city had paid for services provided by the firm, and that the contract should have been terminated when the first sewer bond issue was rejected by voters several years ago.

Partney then read a letter from William Beatty, lawyer for Shepard, Morgan & Schwab, pointing out the existing contract is "legal and binding," that the council's action in terminating it was a "breach of contract" and that the city would be held liable.

The letter further stated that the city had continued the contract last year in calling upon the firm to aid in the engineering plans needed to get the federal grant. It suggested the council reconsider its action so as not to delay the program.

Partney reminded the council that when the contract terminated was presented to the council Dec. 27 session, City Attorney Allen had warned there would be court action.

Baschik remarked, "This letter sounds like a threat. If the firm thinks so much of the city, it wouldn't jeopardize the project by working on the project on additional cost to the local community other than its financial support of the federal government and university."

It is planned to form a steering committee of counselors, parents and staff members to guide and evaluate the workshops as they develop.

Lay leaders trained through the workshops could later lead small discussion groups of parents organized to learn the dynamics of human behavior and improve human relationships within the family.

The two-hour weekly gatherings will spotlight youngsters' problems faced by children and youth of 1967. They will be interdisciplinary and essentially educational, open to parents, lay people, ministers, school personnel and social workers.

Ebersold Bid To Levee Post Is Defeated

Political Compromise To Aid East St. Louis Election Is Reason

William "Mike" Ebersold, city clerk of Venice and a trustee of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, was defeated in a bid for the levee board presidency yesterday as the result of a political compromise intended to aid the re-election campaign of East St. Louis Mayor Alvin G. Fields, it was learned by the Press-Record and a building near the foot of the Broadway viaduct in Venice.

A passenger in Johnson's car, Charles Nelson, 70, of 117 Weaver street, Venice, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was given emergency treatment and admitted. Johnson's condition was said to be serious from face cuts and head injuries.

Johnson's death was not immediately reported as the Quad-City area's first traffic fatality of 1967 pending an inquest which will consider indications that Johnson may have died of a heart attack moments before his car struck the parked auto.

Madison police and ambulance drivers reported there was a possibility Johnson may have been caused by other than the injuries he received in the crash. An inquest date had not yet been scheduled today by Deputy Coroner Robert Thomas.

Two-City Crash
The accident, in two phases, occurred in both Venice and Madison, according to authorities.

Venice police, who filed the report on the crash, said Johnson was driving north on the Broadway avenue and failed to make the curve at the foot of the viaduct.

Declines Comment
Duff declined comment as to the reason for reversing his support, but it was learned from reliable political sources that Duff agreed to go along with the election of East St. Louis area political leaders that the levee board presidency should be retained by a St. Clair county trustee until after the East St. Louis city election campaign in June.

Fields is the Democratic political boss of St. Clair county not only through his position as mayor, but also as a state central committee member of the Democratic party, and as a member of the Illinois House of Representatives.

The levee district is one of the choice patronage sources and therefore plays an important role in major election campaigns. The levee district's payroll runs from $30,000 to $40,000.

In contrast to past levee board reorganizations which have been resolved in closed-door caucuses, the present campaign for the issue of electing a board president yesterday was forced onto the floor of the meeting by Ebersold and Grant, even though Ebersold's defeat obviously had been settled prior to the annual meeting, which had been set for 10 a.m.

Board Members Caucus
Members of the board caucused behind closed doors for an hour before the scheduled 10 a.m. reorganization meeting. At 10:05 a.m., Ebersold came out of the caucus room and went to a nearby conference table where Mayor John E. Leo of Venice and Mayor Stephen Maeras of Madison were being conferred with.

Ebersold, chief engineer of the levee district, and Mayor Leo Maeras accompanied Ebersold into the caucus room for more closed-door talks until 10:20 a.m.

As the reorganization meeting convened, East St. Louis trustee Morris Campbell nominated Tolar as candidate for president and Grant nominated Ebersold.

On roll call votes by Chief Clerk Ben Campbell—Duff, Morris Campbell and Tolar voted for Tolar. A roll call also was taken on Ebersold's nomination with Ebersold and Grant voting "yes."

With the final roll call, Tolar stood up and shook hands with Duff and Campbell. Ebersold, however, said that "in the past it has been customary to make an election by acclamation, and I

Chamber Urges Support of Area Medical School

A report from directors who attended a hearing held by the medical school subcommittee of the Illinois board of higher education in Springfield and other committee reports highlighted the January dinner meeting of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce board held at the Rose Bowl Tuesday.

Board member William F. Heuchler spoke for the directors who attended the hearing in Springfield, which was concerned with forming a medical school on the Southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University.

As a result of the hearing, Heuchler said that the probability of locating the medical school on the new campus was enhanced.

Howard Kaseberg, Chamber of Commerce president, urged that members tell interested citizens to contact their legislators on behalf of forming the medical school on the campus.

Also attending the hearing were Mayor Donald J. Partney and Chamber members Carl Ranft, Chester Baker, Leo H. Konzen, chairman of the health committee, and Kaseberg.

Carl E. Mathias reported in the absence of Harold Fischer, chairman of the SIU liaison committee, that plans were being studied on the feasibility of having SIU professors lecture on current affairs in the Tri-Cities.

Darling's meeting Ivan Maple, representing the Better Business Bureau of St. Louis, outlined plans to locate a branch bureau in the Madison-St. Clair counties area for future board approval.

Bunte's Observing 70th Anniversary In Business Here

Arthur F. and William Bunte, who operate Bunte's at 20th street and Delmar avenue, are beginning this week the observance of the 70th anniversary of the founding of the store.

The brothers are announcing in an advertisement elsewhere in this issue a month-long sale of shoes and other items of clothing.

The store, which was founded by their father, the late A. F. Bunte sr., and his brother, the late E. H. Bunte, as a dry goods and furnishings store on Jan. 2, 1897, opened just a few months after Granite City was incorporated as a city. The store was located in rented quarters in a two-story frame structure in the 1800 block of E street (Edison avenue).

Larger quarters at 18th and D (Delmar) were acquired in December of the same year.

At the time the store was started, the principal business district was along 18th street between State street and C street (Cleveland blvd.).

Four Named in 14 Indictments; To Be Arraigned Friday

At least four persons charged in Quad-City area crimes were named in 14 indictments returned Tuesday by the Madison county grand jury in Edwardsville. There was one no-trial bill involving an Alton case.

Some names of defendants were suppressed pending arraignments set in the criminal division of circuit court at 9:30 a.m. Friday.

Those named and their charges were Theodore Kallerman, 25, of 1116 State street, Madison, armed robbery of the Oak Liquor store on Oct. 3; Donald Lee Hutchinson, 21, of 908 Grand avenue, Madison, burglary at the National School of Music on Oct. 12.

Louis Edward Brown, 21, and Dolly Regina Gage, 23, both of St. Louis, armed robbery at the Venice liquor store on Nov. 10, and Brown on eight counts of attempt to commit murder in the beating with a shotgun and rifle of Frank Diak, Granite City beer distributor, and Michael Collins, Cottage Hills bread truck driver, who were in the store at the time.

In making its report, the grand jury recommended that the county jail should be condemned, and that a new and adequate building, but not a "luxury-resort" type, should be constructed to provide for separate facilities for felons, juveniles and those incarcerated on lesser charges.

Noting that the county tuberculosis sanatorium has more beds than needed, the grand jury recommended that either a smaller building be erected, with the current building used for county nursing home patients, or an agreement with adjoining counties be made to provide for sanitarium patients.

Better fire protection, elevators, furnishing and screening were recommended for the county nursing home. The grand jury also requested that the next grand jury be advised of its recommendations and of any actions taken on them.

Income Tax Aid for Area Starts Monday

Quad-City area residents again may receive assistance from Internal Revenue Service representatives in preparation of their 1966 income tax returns, beginning Monday.

IRS agents will be on hand each Monday from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. The service will continue on the one-day-a-week basis through April 10.

The Granite City council has approved a request for office space and has assigned space on the third floor of the city hall to be used by IRS agents.

Requests for filing income tax returns this year covering the 1966 tax year, is April 16.

Sewer Plant Superintendent And Staff Seek Pay Boosts

Referred to the Pollution Plant committee headed by Alderman Moerlein and the Personnel committee, headed by Alderman Thompson was a letter from John Hildebrandt, superintendent of the sewage treatment plant, who requested pay increases for his staff and himself.

The letter was received by the Granite City council at its post-holiday meeting Tuesday night. Hildebrandt asked that his salary be increased from the present $8400 a year ($700 a month) to $10,000 under a four-year contract. He did not specify amounts for employees at the treatment plant.

The superintendent asked that he also be provided with an automobile, explaining that he spends 14 to 16 hours a day on the job here and also is expected to travel since he is chairman of the West Central Illinois Water Pollution Control Association.

In his letter Hildebrandt stressed the smooth operation of the new plant without a breakdown, and he noted that he worked out solutions to billing problems involving individual industries and commercial establishments.

Protests Voiced
While the letter was referred to the committees for recommendations, the proposals were debated by the aldermen.

Bartolacci said no increase should be considered until the superintendent moves to Granite City, and Nomm added that four months operation of the local plant "still doesn't prove him."

Moerlein explained that Hildebrandt was having problems selling the property he owns in East St. Louis, but that arrangements now have been completed.

"I talked to him about moving here last April, and he has told me twice he would be moving," Bartolacci said. Moerlein added, "He's a capable man, but this might be a little premature."

Acceptance by Jan. 14. In other action concerning the sewage treatment plant, the city was advised by the U.S. Department of Interior, Federal Water Pollution Control Administration that it expected all acceptance data on the plant by Jan. 14.

Moerlein pointed out the agency needs added information on the city's instructions to industries relative to restrictions on pollutants being dumped into the city sewer system. He called upon the mayor to answer that.

Partney replied he had submitted copies of letters sent to industries and was waiting on the presentation of other information until such time as the city adopted a resolution accepting the treatment plant.

The mayor added that the federal government is withholding $122,000 of its grant to the city and that the money has been held up about four months. "I figure we've lost about $2000 in interest in not accepting the treatment plant and getting the grant four months ago," the mayor added.

A payment of the final amount of the sewage treatment plant contractor, Nelson Construction Co., St. Louis, was authorized for future seeding and landscaping. The amount of payment approved was $7561.

Additional effort will be made by the city to secure federal financial assistance for purchase of equipment for the treatment plant. The federal government has agreed to aid in financing purchase of a third truck to haul sludge from the treatment plant to the city's landfill dump, but it refused to allow funds to purchase a portable steam cleaner, a tractor and welding equipment. Mayor Partney was asked to submit another request for funds, explaining the equipment is needed for efficient operation of the plant.

Starting the New Year, the Warriors, the Granite City Warriors, downed Riverview Gardens 88-42 in non-conference game play here Tuesday.

Ralph Sackett, Warrior coach, said the team is finally well out of its "slump" episode. The Warriors, 1-5, have a 56-win-loss record this season.

Shooting over 60% lead, the Warriors, 49-11-point lead at the end of the first half, dominated and prevailed 37-20 at halftime and 62-28 after three periods.

Warrior coach, Ralph Sackett, and Terry Moore paced the Warriors throughout the game, with Hentzel tallying 28 points and Moore 13. John VanDyk scored 13 points, Jeff Jones 12, Bob Malonik seven, Gary Simpson six. Don Rains five. Hutchings two. Moore, Mike Hoyer, and Hentzel.

The Warriors sank 28 baskets out of 59 tries from all areas of the court, including 20 out of 40 free throw attempts.

Their free throw record after 10 games is an impressive 71.4 percent.

Hentzel and Moore have season averages of 19.6 and 18.9 respectively.

On JV play, the Warriors were also successful Tuesday, beating Riverview 53-37. Hutchings Rains had two double-doubles, the varsity and JV games. Rains tallied 20 points to take JV Warriors, with Hutchings tallying 18.

The starting lineup for the coming game with Wood River here Saturday night will be the same as the one maintained by two Warriors. Malonik, who missed opening the season, will be back in the starting line. His right ankle, will be on the bench because his ankle injury has not healed properly. J.V. players will be on the bench at least a week because of Illinois anglers said about a half-million dollars to fish at 178 bass lakes last year, according to the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Fishermen pay either an annual membership fee or a daily fee for the pounds of fish caught.

Annual memberships cost from $10 to $400 a year. Daily fees assigned to the Savanna juvenile range from 30 cents for 13- and high school. There he teaches fishing techniques and studies and coaches the species of fish desired. Trout are grade basketball squad.

Mike Graville, who starred on the Madison high school basketball team and was a member of the University of Illinois cage football team for three years along with Don Freeman of Madison, is spending much of this time on the river. Graville, who was a member of the 1966 U. of Illinois graduate team, has joined the Savanna, Ill., school district and has been assigned to the Savanna junior high school. There he teaches physical education and social studies, and coaches the eighth grade basketball squad.

Interviewed by the Illinois Alumni News, Graville was described as pleased with his first job and with his coaching duties. He has established a home at Thomson, situated near the Mississippi River 10 miles south of Savanna and just above Lock and Dam 15. The river, he said, is a channel into a lake.

A hunter and fisherman, he enjoys the outdoors.

MORE ABOUT Council

possession, and proceeded with the vote to override the veto.

Calvo Contract

The resolution to hire Horace Calvo, local lawyer, as the bond attorney for the sewer program and authorizing the mayor and clerk to sign the contract was approved by a vote of 13-2. Alderman Green had departed.

Several weeks ago when the council voted to authorize the contract with Calvo, the mayor told the council he would not work with the man.

Under the contract, it is specified that Calvo will handle legal work for a revenue bond issue or a general obligation bond issue and prepare for a bond referendum, if needed.

He would also consult with city officials, the city's fiscal agent and work with the committee, attending meetings and hearings. He would not be responsible for legal work in connection with obtaining easements for sewer lines.

While the committee originally proposed a general obligation bond issue with an election, the contract mentions a revenue bond issue, and if necessary, a referendum, or a referendum for a general obligation bond issue.

$10,750, Plus Fee
Calvo's fee is to be based on the minimum rates set by the Madison County Bar Association, and for a million dollars would be $10,750, plus 1/2% of all over a million dollars.

The resolution was not on the meeting agenda, and a vote was called for to permit its presentation.

After the resolution and contract were read, Thompson and Fry wanted to know who had carried out the negotiations and had prepared the contract.

Bartosik, a member of the Special Sewer committee, said he had proceeded with the details earlier that day and after calling upon Calvo to prepare them, had taken the resolution and contract to City Atty. Allen to be reviewed.

Bartosik added that there had been a month's delay, and he had decided not to wait for the committee and the mayor to act.

Boyd noted the contract would be void in the event the referendum fails. "I like that," he added.

Withdraws Objection
Sternberg, who had opposed the reading of the resolution, said that while he had objected to Calvo as bond attorney a month ago, he would support him now. "I called on him and we had a long talk."

"I had objected because I felt there was a conflict of interest since he was representing those who filed a mandamus suit against the city or the one-way street issue. He told me he would withdraw from that suit. I want this bond issue to pass."

In the roll call vote, the resolution was supported by Nomm, Whitmer, Basarich, Bartosik, Johnson, Boyd, Dallas, Robertson, Fry, Parmley, Robertson and Poulos. Opposed were Rutledge and Thompson.

Rutledge remarked the project still could not get under way without an engineer.

Bartosik said that since the city now has a bond attorney, it could proceed with contacting engineering firms.

Expense Allowance
At the outset of the meeting, as the council was in session as the town board of auditors, Alderman Rutledge called for separation of the $200 monthly expense allowance for Assessor Barton, pointing out that since the council was holding up city expense allowances, it should take a close look at all of them.

The separation was opposed by Whitmer and Nomm, who pointed out the council had no authority to make such a decision. Whitmer said the dispute over the mayor's and the aldermen's expense allowances was a city feud, but the assessor was a township officer. Nomm added that the assessor's pay had been set up in the township budget. Dallas added, "We're acting like a bunch of kids."

Rutledge presented a motion that the assessor's allowance not be paid.

"You always try that when there are empty seats among the 'big eleven,'" Basarich commented. As the debate progressed, several of the absent aldermen arrived.

When the vote was taken, the motion not to pay was supported by Rutledge, Sternberg, Thompson, Fry and Mayor Partney. Opposed were Nomm, Whitmer, Basarich, Bartosik, Johnson, Dallas, Moerlein, Parmley, Robertson, Poulos, Green and Clerk Homer Pendleton. Boyd had not yet arrived.

Moerlein on Expenses
Expense allowances also were mentioned in a letter prepared by Alderman Moerlein and read to the council "for the record."

Moerlein pointed out that at the Dec. 26 adjourned session of the council, Mayor Partney mentioned expenses paid to Moerlein when he was mayor.

Outlining the expenses, Moerlein went on to say to Partney—"Your practice of spontaneous technicality borders on the ridiculous when an eyebrow is raised. The record shows your expense listing to be definitely improper. It does not request reimbursement of expenses incurred by me."

Moerlein noted that in 1947, his expense allowance of $286 in December was for two round-trip Pullman reservations to Washington, D. C., for himself and then city attorney Fred P. Schumacher for conferences on a new storm water pumping station and sewers and also for 91 days auto expense at $1.75 per day. He listed several other allowances of $140, $149 and $150 for trips to Springfield.

He pointed out the total was $774 for a period of 10 months.

"Your request for expenses for the month of November and other months in 1966 have been more than seven times the amount paid me per month as mayor, and you saw fit to criticize the amount paid me," Moerlein told Partney.

He reiterated Partney's November expense request—$120 for car expenses, $88 for dinners, $40 for lunches and breakfast, $3 for bridge fare, $4 for parking and $30 miscellaneous.

The mayor's November allowance was not approved by the council, and the mayor has refused to pay checks for the $30 monthly expense allowances for the aldermen.

Also being held up are expense allowances for other city officers. Legal opinions are being sought from the Illinois Municipal League.

Look beyond your own troubles and you'll see the sunshine.

Bartylak Finances To Be Investigated By Grand Jury

Activities of former State Atty. Joseph R. Bartylak are to be investigated by the Madison county grand jury which was called for a special session starting at 9:30 a.m. Friday by Circuit Judge James O. Moore.

The grand jury is to consider alleged discrepancies shown in private and county audits of Bartylak's financial affairs, in his own financial records and in records of three estate cases which he represented.

Judge Monroe recalled the grand jury Tuesday after it submitted its latest report on criminal cases and inspections of county buildings and facilities.

He is to name a special prosecutor to present the case to the grand jury, probably by tomorrow, though he had yet to name an attorney by late this morning.

Bartylak resigned his public office effective last Sunday, listing health reasons, and was succeeded by Leon Scroggins of Granite City, who had served as chief assistant and acting state attorney.

Scroggins and his five assistants disqualified themselves in presenting the case to the grand jury, but he had worked for Bartylak prior to his resignation.

"Bartylak, who expressed surprise at the jury's recall, indicated that he would cooperate with its investigation."

Collide in Madison

Cars driven by William F. Finley, 742 State street, and George K. Gawlik, 811 Washington avenue, Madison, were damaged at 4:30 p.m. yesterday in a collision at Elizabeth street and Washington avenue in Madison. Finley was headed south and Gawlik was going west, making a left turn, police said.

Neither is it addressed to a proper officer of the city.

"To my knowledge and as a member of the Finance committee, the only action taken by you to substantiate your expenses was to show an exposed concern of expenses paid others."

"Your actions to date show just one thing. If you cannot have almost 10 times as much in expenses as has been allowed others, then it is wrong to pay anyone's expenses."

"The statutes do not prohibit the payment of reasonable expenses incidental to duties of an officer. The board of aldermen is the policy making body of the city. The office of mayor is an administrative office."

Points to Discretion
"In my judgment, had you as mayor of the city shown the leadership we expected, the dissension now existing on this council would never have occurred."

"If you would show a spirit of compromise and cooperation with your associates on the city council instead of vengeance on your part toward those who will not bow to your demands, harmony could prevail and all the citizens of Granite City would benefit instead of the personal ego of one individual."

Moerlein noted that in 1947, his expense allowance of $286 in December was for two round-trip Pullman reservations to Washington, D. C., for himself and then city attorney Fred P. Schumacher for conferences on a new storm water pumping station and sewers and also for 91 days auto expense at $1.75 per day. He reiterated Partney's November expense request—$120 for car expenses, $88 for dinners, $40 for lunches and breakfast, $3 for bridge fare, $4 for parking and $30 miscellaneous.

The mayor's November allowance was not approved by the council, and the mayor has refused to pay checks for the $30 monthly expense allowances for the aldermen.

Mrs. Theresa DeGonia Dies; Ill Two Years

Mrs. Theresa DeGonia, 60, of 2356 Iowa street, a lifelong resident here, died about 8 p.m. Wednesday at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where she was a patient for three weeks. She had been ill with a blood disorder for about two years.

Mrs. DeGonia, a native of Madison, was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Her husband, John C. DeGonia Sr., died Dec. 12, 1965.

Survivors include three sons, John Jr., David and Lawrence Joseph DeGonia, all of Granite City; a daughter, Mrs. Richard (Patricia) O'Fallon, of Fairfield, Calif.; a brother, Leo Schuchalsch of O'Fallon, Mo.; a sister, Mrs. Earl (Bertha) Burns of Detroit, Mich., and 12 grandchildren.

Further information is in today's obituary column.

Two Charges Filed

Charged with disorderly conduct and intoxication at 11:15 p.m. yesterday, was Benjamin C. White, 38, of 2328 Morgan street, who was arrested by police at the railroad tracks and or pay them compensated for transportation.

Lawrence Tolar, board president who was re-elected to his sixth consecutive term in yesterday's session, pointed out that levee board members have been using their own automobiles in levee inspection work and "year in the 1967 year will be completed within a day or two" for public posting.

He said the total for payment of bond principal and interest during 1967 will run about the same as that of the 1966 appropriation, while the total for general fund expenses will be less than that of last year.

The 1966 ordinance set up $1,04,349 for bond payments and $1,012,350 for operating expenses in the general fund, a total of $2,116,699.

The auditing department said the appropriation bill had been prepared in rough draft, but that some changes in the general fund figures became necessary. These will be completed within the next few days, it was said.

On File 30 Days

The appropriation will remain on file for public inspection for 30 days and then will be presented to a public hearing. Board members may approve the bill in the public hearing. Trustees then may pass the district's 1967 tax levy at any time after ten days from approval of the appropriation.

In other business at yesterday's meeting, the board approved a resolution to provide transportation for the trustees, and to pay them compensated for transportation.

Plans is Optional
He said no detailed schedules of payment have been worked out. The alternatives will be optional to the trustees, he said. No estimate of cost for such a plan was given.

The board received a report showing total disbursements of $147,743 during December, leaving the district a cash balance of $40,535 as of Jan. 1. Income during December included $127,167 in St. Clair county taxes, with December balances, the district had total December income of $188,277.

Claims totaling $4,295 for December and a December payroll of $30,150 also were approved, as were claims for $112 for Horn and Shifrin engineering firm plus $300 expenses for the firm.

Other bills approved, to be paid out of the bond fund for construction of the Lansdowne sewerage treatment system, included $48,720 to Keeley Brothers Contracting Co. for labor and materials, and $224 to the Collinsville Construction Co. also for labor and materials.

Parked Car Damaged

While backing his car into a parking space at Bellemeor Village shopping center at 12:20 p.m. yesterday, Louis Beasley of 2240 Lincoln avenue struck and damaged the fender of a parked auto owned by Jack Johnson, 2460 Kilarney avenue.

Parole Agent Adresses Rotarians in Madison

Procedures followed in carrying out his duties were outlined to Madison Rotarians yesterday by Frank Harris, former Granite City policeman who is state adult parole agent for Madison, Bond, Jersey and Calhoun counties.

Efforts are made to aid parolees in remaining out of prison, but many return due to inability to cope with outside life, Harris related. Alcoholism is one of the most frequent pitfalls encountered in following the detailed list of "dos" and "don'ts" specified for parolees, he told the club. Harvey Miller served as program chairman.

Mike Sasyk was honored on his birthday, and it was announced that a team headed by Alex Schenboffer won a fall attendance contest with a 98.8% record. The club had two 100% meetings in December, Dr. J. E. Weed, secretary, reported.

Attention was called to a Jan. 11 faculty basketball game being sponsored by the Madison high school senior class.

Simon for Balanced Development

To the Editor: While I usually agree with you, the Dec. 27 editorial criticizing my stand in support of the Lewis and Clark Park expansion does me a disservice. I have made my position clear and I don't believe this is one of them. Your editorial ignores these facts:

1. I have issued two public statements on the park question and in the first I used the exact word you use, "Compromise." I suggested that a compromise is one word is raised in their behalf. I still feel the same.
2. I have always worked with Rep. Lloyd "Curly" Harris to co-sponsor and support the Tri-City Port Authority legislation, and will continue to do so in the future. I have also supported other legislation to encourage industrial expansion and have worked with communities in other areas to bring new industry in.
3. The Lewis and Clark Trail is being marked nationally in all of the states along the way—Missouri and Illinois, the one state where they camped for six months and where the expedition started, so far has done practically nothing. Federal authorities expect the Lewis and Clark Trail to be a major national tourist attraction. This would mean dollars into our country's economy just as surely as an industry would.
4. We desperately need park development in Illinois and Madison county. Your newspaper's lack of leadership on the skating rink and for Wilson Park—and I applaud this. We need the same leadership for other park and recreation development.
5. In all of the area along the Mississippi in Madison county, we have only three small, five-acre park where the public has access; the remainder is devoted to industrial development. It does not seem to me to be an unreasonable request to have a park along the river to expand park developments in Madison and St. Clair counties and preserve nature, future generations of the growing population in our area may not experience this.

PAUL SIMON, State Senator

The Law Serves You

Defendants Can Remain Silent

(A public service of the Tri-City and Illinois Bar Association.) The accused person who remains silent during his trial on a criminal charge is exercising a privilege that is guaranteed by the U.S. Constitution and firmly embedded in Common Law. In two recent highly-publicized criminal trials, that of Candace Mosser in the death of her multi-millionaire husband in Miami Beach, and that of James Earl Ray, the accused person refused to testify. Under the Fifth Amendment, a person may refuse to testify in court, if the testimony called for would tend to subject the person to prosecution for violation of a criminal law. Must Appear in Court However, this does not mean that a person can ignore a proper subpoena to appear in court. He must appear, appear in court, and then claim his privilege. The origin of the privilege against self-incrimination is obscure. Historians believe the privilege began as a protection against the ancient practice of "trial by ordeal" in which accused persons were subjected to cruel and unusual punishments and were held innocent if they survived; guilty, if they did not. The privilege, as we know it today, became embodied in English Common Law in the 17th Century.

Slower Growth Rate in Education, Highway Expenditures Predicted

(Taxpayers Federation of Illinois) Growth in revenue demands of education and highways is likely to decrease in the decade ahead. These are the two functions of heaviest state and local government spending. A study entitled, "Fiscal Outlook for State and Local Governments to 1975," prepared by the Tax Foundation, Inc., points out that the slackening in growth, in relation to recent years, will come about principally because of two factors: 1. The postwar expansion in public school enrollments will level off between 1968 and 1970. Hereafter, the actual numbers enrolled are expected to decline. 2. The volume of highway construction will drop. From 1948 to 1965 the rise in outlays for education was $3 billion greater, from $5 to $29 billion, than the increase in population. However, a different picture is likely by 1975. While total spending for education is projected to rise from $3 billion

Elections, Other Tests of Citizen Interest Will Help Determine Extent of 1967 Progress

Nineteen sixty-seven... what will it bring? Completion of the mammoth expansion of Granite City Steel Co. Opening of the spacious Wilson Park recreation center and ice skating rink. Elimination of air pollution. Completion of widening of the northern section of the Quad-City road. These and other gains are assured, but much more can be accomplished if Quad-Cityans rise to the best that is in them and make the new year one of real progress. Much can be done in achieving a more attractive community, starting with each individual's own residential or business property. With government cooperating to permanently eliminate needless eyesores, the Quad-City area can be transformed. The resulting stimulus to civic pride and citizen interest can lead to even broader benefits. Elimination of city, school, park and township officials this spring will go a long way toward setting a constructive pattern, or the reverse. It behooves every voter to participate and to go to the polls with adequate understanding of the candidates and issues. Establishment of the long-awaited Horseshoe Lake park and wildlife refuge merits new attention, as well as reasonable Lewis and Clark Park expansion which does not seaford industrial park water shipping access. Other issues of community-wide concern this year include the Quad-City role in possible junior college planning, fluoridation of the water supply, provision of additional homes and apartment buildings, sound hospital planning, and unselfish efforts to help local governmental bodies acquire the knowledge, resources and jurisdiction to function effectively and positively.

The challenges of 1967 also include the following, categorized geographically:

GRANITE CITY—The need for sanitary and storm sewer construction and separation poses a major challenge to local health and progress. Fifty-percent federal funds are available. An election in 1967 offers an opportunity for a solution that must not be lost. Traffic arteries and the streets leading to business districts must be unclogged. Elements of the remedy undoubtedly will include more off-street parking, less on-street parking, more connecting links than now exist, elimination of needless stop signs and adherence to coordinated, community-wide traffic flow patterns. With Federal Aid Route 151 being extended into the Quad-Cities, improvements to access streets will be important. Revision of the one-way street system needs to be taken out of "politics" and given a fair trial. Because it causes confusion and inconvenience after school, retail trade, traffic strangulation is harmful to every local resident. Redistricting of city wards is essential. Unequal representation has reached such an extreme degree that both citizens and council members are hampered in seeking active, efficient government. Downtown revitalization—including expansion of retail services and initiation of municipal renewal programs for areas in need of new life—must be advanced. Planning and site acquisition for new schools, parks and governmental facilities are being made necessary by the population growth trend.

MADISON—Adoption of tavern hours uniform with the remainder of the community, county and region is long overdue.

Ranking high on the agenda of municipal officials is development of the Madison industrial park and determination of a site for the city-owned Chain of Rocks Bridge, virtually idle since the opening of the nearby Interstate Route 270 bridge.

VENICE—Tasks facing city officials include prodding the state and federal roads to keep the Broadway traffic underpass proposal alive; preserving the city's reserve fund built up to meet its share of the underpass cost; and implementing the plan to relocate the Kerr Island residents to be displaced by Federal Aid Route 151.

MADISON COUNTY—Equalization of assessing throughout the county—aided by Review Board designation of township multipliers where justified—is necessary from the standpoint of fairness and to avoid loss of the county's present "11" multiplier.

Other county needs include a stronger two-party system; elimination of the 23 county employee political gift formula acknowledged by Democratic leaders; sound expansion of mental health services, a more easily enforced county liquor control law and establishment of a county or joint municipal incinerator.

LEVEE DISTRICT—New standards of economy and efficiency are a must for the East Side Levee & Sanitary District is to gain greater public esteem. These could be achieved easily by following the bidding, buying and hiring policies of such taxing agencies as the Granite City schools. Any new state legislation should be sought open and should put emphasis on what is needed and desired by taxpayers, not politicians. Hillside drainage facilities would aid such a wide area that it would be improper to make an attempt to saddle only the Quad-City and East St. Louis property owners with the bill.

POT DISTRICT—Cooperation in development of the 9000-acre Chouteau township industrial park will be important in planning for an inlet near the northern end of the Chain of Rocks canal.

SILVER CAMPUS—Expansion of educational buildings and student housing remains a vital need. The enrollment potential exists for a much broader program, if sufficient curriculum diversity and physical facilities are provided.

A medical school on the local campus would meet all of the objectives of the local plan of downstate training of doctors, and would be benefited by proximity to outstanding instructors and to the wide variety of illness and injury cases found in a metropolitan area.

Scheduling of university-related cultural events in the Quad-Cities, along with the present schedule involving the cities of Edwardsville, Alton and East St. Louis, would help create additional links uniting this community and SILVER.

STATE—Increased highway construction needs justify gasoline tax and license fee increases.

County board redistricting and updating of the 1945 property tax formula deserve high priority. As do state government conflict of interest legislation, reduction of excessive state patronage, enactment of a law curbing drunken driving and modernization of General Assembly procedural rules and staff services.

Plight of cities hit by tax rate formula court rulings should be eased. But the temptation to double municipal sales tax authority should be resisted; the impact on border area communities like the Quad-Cities is too severe.

Mandatory annual audits for all governmental bodies within the state should be required. Serious study might well be given to providing the financing necessary to utilize such federal grant programs as that of the Urban Mass Transit Act.

NATION AND WORLD—A prompt, successful conclusion of the Vietnam war is the overriding issue of 1967.

A more effective fight against the deeply entrenched organized crime apparatus is imperative. The U.S. should study the sharp rise in steel shipments from countries that impose special taxes on producers there. Similar taxes on such imports may be required to avoid an artificial imbalance and help assure retention of U.S. steelmaking capacity on a scale adequate for future national security.

SEVENTEEN SIXTY-SEVEN... what will it bring? The answer depends on each Quad-City.

Creation of 'Megacounties' or County Federations Studied Elsewhere

(Ninth of a series) (Press-Record editorial analysis) As Illinois ponders government-alignment needs, it will keep informed on the progress of similar programs in other states. Bases Vanlandingham of Columbia expects the state's 14 counties to be replaced by 10 "megacounties" in the next decade by 25 or 30 districts which he calls "megacounties." Such entities are viewed as making possible more efficient governmental services. Already, the trend toward abolition of the old county concept has gained much headway. Missouri traditionally elected state representatives from counties, but this changed with the 1960 legislative reapportionment. Among other things, the ending of the tradition will force Missouri to reexamine its county concept and its role of each in implementing them. Multi-county federations are a concept as broadening the geographic area of each county's jurisdiction. How far consolidation of counties will advance is uncertain, but there is advance in some states. Naming of new "megacounties" may prove difficult, in the view of Missouri Gov. Warren Hearnes, who doesn't think the people of Missouri county (his own), Scott, Stoddard and New Madrid are going to merge and create a new county, "Big River" or something," he comments. Redrawing of county boundaries in Missouri would require changes in the state constitution. Metropolitan Federations An alternative that could be adopted by the legislature would be a federation of metropolitan counties to plan solutions to area-wide problems and to determine the role of each in implementing them. How far consolidation of counties will advance is uncertain, but there is advance in some states. Naming of new "megacounties" may prove difficult, in the view of Missouri Gov. Warren Hearnes, who doesn't think the people of Missouri county (his own), Scott, Stoddard and New Madrid are going to merge and create a new county, "Big River" or something," he comments. Rotary Members Tour Specialized Services Center

About 40 members of the Granite City Rotary Club attended a luncheon and program Tuesday noon at the recently-opened Specialized Services Center, located at 2007-09 Madison avenue.

Arrangements for the luncheon and a tour of the facilities were made by Harold Thomas, director of special education for Granite City schools, who also serves on a seven-member special education advisory committee for Madison county. The local educator also is a member of the Tri-Cities Production Center Council, which provided the impetus for establishing the center here.

Supervisory personnel from the Tri-Cities center were introduced by Joseph L. Budde, executive director of Specialized Services, Inc., a state-chartered organization which operates a similar production workshop in the Alton area.

The administrator explained that those employed at the center primarily are being trained to take their place in the community's general work force. He said that work contracts accepted by the center must have instructional value in order to teach various skills and provide employment to both the physically and mentally handicapped.

Chris Kacaleff, Tri-Cities Council president, urged local businessmen and industrial executives to hire the handicapped workers when trained. He added, "There are many job levels being offered at the center. Mill in our community where trainees can be employed and become ber and a Venice businessman, would be greatly appreciated."

Sanderson spring steel filters in the main building at the plant as well as the conveyor belt which takes sludge from the filters to a waiting truck to be hauled to the city's landfill dump.

ment is needed at the local center, which employs several handicapped workers from the Quading boards and sewing machines. Slides are shown, detailing activities at the Alton workshop.

American Bank Boosts Dividends by 10 Cents

The American National Bank increased its dividends from 40 to 50 cents a share to stockholders of record on Dec. 23 in checks mailed this week.

The payments were made with the notice of annual meeting of shareholders to be held from 4 to 4:30 p.m. Jan. 18 in the banking rooms to elect directors and officers.

With the notice, Harold F. Kandruff, bank president, said the bank's statement of condition at year-end shows a steady and satisfactory growth in spite of strong competition of financial institutions for deposits. We are happy that our growth is a natural result of our location and the efficiency of our service to an ever increasing number of customers.

County TB Christmas Seal Campaign at 87%

Contributions totaling $45,407 have been made to the 1966 Christmas Seal campaign in Madison county according to Homer W. Davis, chairman.

"That amount is 87% of our goal of $52,000," he said, and "if contributions continue to come in at the same rate, we will top last year's total returns of $50,319."

"We fervently hope that those who haven't responded to their Christmas Seal letters will do so now so we can carry out and expand our programs as planned."

The contributions finance the Madison County Tuberculosis Association's program, including the annual county-wide free chest x-ray survey. During the 1966 survey, 26,412 persons had free chest x-rays on the association's mobile unit.

Plans for the 1967 chest x-ray survey currently are being made and will be conducted March 1-April 30. Definite dates, hours and locations for the mobile unit will be announced in February.

The TB association will participate in the county-wide tuberculosis testing of school students beginning Monday. The project will include first, fifth and ninth grade students in public and parochial schools. It is sponsored jointly by the association, the TB control division of the Illinois Public Health Dept., Madison county/sanatorium board and local schools.

City to Fight Consolidation Of Trains, Rerouting of Bus

Protests are being filed by the Granite City council to an Illinois Commerce Commission order to permit consolidation of Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad passenger trains between St. Louis and Chicago and to a proposal by Delux Trailways bus lines to reroute its buses over U. S. 66 between Hannibal and East St. Louis, bypassing Granite City.

"Here we are a town of 50,000 people and the ICC is practically cutting off all passenger train service and now bus service," Alderman Nomm complained.

Alderman Moerlein pointed out that while the ICC has already granted its approval for GM&O to consolidate two northbound trains and also two of its southbound passenger runs, the city still could file a formal protest.

Council members agreed that members of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, the Jaycees and the Associated Retailers should be called upon to support the city's stand.

A hearing on Delux Trailways bus line's request is scheduled for 11 a.m. Jan. 18 at Springfield, City Atty. Allen was instructed to file protests to both the railroad consolidation order and the bus line's request. The bus now enters Granite City on 20th street.

Both Nomm and Alderman Green complained that the ICC permitted a shutdown of the passenger station at 20th street, that could be used by hundreds of college students riding trains on weekends, but that the agency does not aid cities in its requests for rail crossing repairs and for support in action to prevent excessive blocking of crossings.

Possession may be nine points of the law, but most people prefer self-possession.

SAFETY EQUIPMENT USED BY employees of Granite City Steel Co. which set an all-time safety record during 1966 of less than two disabling injuries per million man hours ahead. Shown by L. C. Parker (right), safety director, and James Fuller, safety clerk, the display includes an asbestos coat and some of the other 20 different types of safety equipment.

Youth, 18, Stabbed By Unknown Assailant

Larry Ashby, 18, of 2941 Dogwood drive, was stabbed in the abdomen by an unknown assailant while he was at work at the Bi-Rite market on Pontoon road, it was reported to police at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday.

He was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital. The police report showed that the youth had given a man some empty boxes in the rear of the store and he suddenly pulled a knife and inflicted the wound. The man was last seen on foot headed east along the alley.

The measure of any kind of trouble depends a lot on whether it is coming or going.

GC Steel Credits Safety Record to Joint Group

L. C. Parker, safety director for Granite City Steel Co., today credited the firm's 1966 all-time safety record to the effective safety committee.

The labor management safety committee. The committee meets monthly to review safety procedures and make recommendations for safety improvements. At the time the committee was formed in 1960, there was an average of more than 16 accidents per million man-hours worked. The average has dropped steadily since to less than two injuries.

"The labor management committee has played a major role in helping us establish better safety procedures," Parker said. "It is largely responsible for our continual progress in accident prevention."

Parker said the creation of a formal safety program which gives management personnel specific safety responsibilities was another factor in helping reduce accidents.

Granite City Steel encourages mass participation in the safety program by awarding ice tea tumblers to all employees for every 30-day period without a disabling injury, Parker noted. He estimated that the safety department gave away more than 30,000 tumblers in 1966.

GC to Get Data for Rte. 151 Intersections

Information on traffic patterns and designs for three intersections in Granite City for Federal Aid Route 151 is expected within a few days, Alderman Sternberg, chairman of the city council's Street committee reported Tuesday night.

Sternberg said he had been conferring with engineers at the French Village highway district office, and that projected traffic patterns and counts are being readied for the Rock road, West 20th street and the Niedringhaus avenue intersections.

The chairman said he was advised the state would provide little, if any, financial aid to the city in developing the major thoroughfares connecting with the Great River Road, but that he was advised the city could use its motor fuel tax funds.

When Alderman Nomm complained bitterly that funds for concrete paving of Route 151 were not included in the state's highway program for 1967, he was told by Alderman Basarich that the state highway officials had said it would be 1968 before concrete work would be undertaken. Nomm called upon Mayor Partney to name a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce and other civic leaders to go to Springfield and protest the delay before Gov. Kern.

Iowa St. Meeting

Sternberg said a meeting is scheduled for tomorrow morning between representatives of National Food stores and the city in an effort to solve the 20-foot bottleneck on Iowa street at the busy Nameoki road intersection located at the rear of the new store.

The city will be represented by its engineers, Street Supt. Warfield, the Street Committee and the mayor.

Sternberg said he hoped a solution can be found, especially since a curbing has been constructed under the state widening project for Nameoki road. The curb limits access to Iowa street, and it no longer is in line with St. Clair avenue.

A detailed cost study of the joint, twenty project for improvement of McCambridge avenue and Martin street, recently completed with motor fuel tax funds by the cities of Madison and Granite City, was requested by Alderman Moerlein.

Moerlein challenged payment of $3708 for relocation of three steel towers and facilities of Union Electric Co. in connection with the improvement. "Granite City shouldn't pay all the cost. I'm sure at least one tower is in Madison and another in the county," Moerlein said.

He called for a meeting of project engineer, the aldermen of the First Ward and the Street committee.

Project Costs to Date

Moerlein said the project to date has cost Madison $50,485, and Granite City has been billed for $50,375, including the $3708 for the towers. He added that with the $6000 supplemental resolution for MFT funds, the cost to Granite City could mount to $55,515. Action on the resolution was delayed two weeks ago, and Moerlein took action Tuesday night to remove the $3708 paid by the Union Electric Co. from the bill list.

A problem with a pile-up of discarded Christmas trees on a vacant lot at 26th and State streets was pointed out by Alderman Rutledge, who said nearby residents were concerned about a fire hazard. Street Supt. Warfield said he would see the trees are removed.

Sternberg reported the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. will connect downspouts onto sewers at its filter house near West 23rd street. Nearby residents had complained the runoff was flooding their yards.

New Parking Zones

An ordinance was adopted establishing a two-hour parking zone on the east side of Adams street from 22nd street to the 2229 Adams address. A 30-minute parking zone was created in the same ordinance for the north side of 22nd street extending from Benton street to the alley.

Also approved was a resolution for installation of a fire hydrant at 3118 Yale drive.

Authorization was given for the Police committee and the Fire committee to meet to determine if bids should be sought for maintenance and repairs for radio equipment, and a $1000 bond was approved for probationary patrolman Edward Weisbach.

A meeting is being scheduled for the City Buildings committee to arrange for additional space for the treasurer's office. Alderman Barosiak, chairman of the committee, said more space will be required when Treasurer E. R. Rich takes over collection of sewer rental and sewage treatment bills. The collections presently are handled by the controller's office, and the changeover is to take place Feb. 1.

Referred to the City Plan Commission was an ordinance seeking a zoning change in a residential area along Nameoki road. Alderman Rutledge said the ordinance had not been prepared by the city attorney, and that he would not read it until after the commission had acted.

People who travel in the highest circles sometimes find it hard to be on the square.

"ACE SELLS THE FACTS" QUALITY AT LOWER PRICES

Old Shawneetown

By JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University

A visit to steadily vanishing Old Shawneetown on the Ohio starts a chain of memories. Likewise does leafing through the files of that town's newspaper, the Southern Illinoisian of 110 years ago. Either rekindles interest in the town's story.

Some years before world war I, five young men pooled transportation and the necessary facilities needed for a week at Round Pond, near Shawneetown. Their equipment consisted of a team of sturdy farm horses, a high-wheeled wagon with sideboards, hay and corn for ten days, a tarpaulin large enough to cover the wagon, two borrowed tents, kerosene lanterns, a stock of food and cooking equipment, along with coats, blankets and various odds and ends.

Since camp was to be near a much used sandy beach, bathing suits of the conservative pattern then in vogue were taken. After leaving from near Hardscrabble early one morning, we made camp at Round Pond about dusk.

On the next morning a female contingent, thoroughly chaptered, was met at the L & N station in Shawneetown. At Camp, the newly-arrived group took over the larger shelter that some wag already had named the animal tent. They also took the choice cuts and a liberal supply of blankets. The original quintet that had come with the wagon, plus another fellow who had come by train, were left with the smaller tent. Liberally strawed, it wasn't so bad except at night when it rained.

Problems—But Good Time
Each night there were myriads of bloodthirsty mosquitos, a few of which somehow managed to penetrate the pall of smoke from smudge fires built to windward of the tents. Despite the one night of rain, the lurking hordes of mosquitos, the omnipresent cicadrons, an army of ants that always gather at picnics, and a snake scare or two, a good time was had by all.

The writer never dreamed then that an even 50 years later he would turn aside to spend a quiet night alone at the old campsite. This time it was in a comfortable rain and mosquito-proof trailer, with a gas plate for cooking. There still is a good road to the old beach. Why not go camping there now and, if it is not forgotten, return to check a half-century later.

Presently there is a resolve to visit Bell Smith Spring in Pope county and once more camp under the rock ledges there where we huddled with members of Boy Scout Troop No. one from Harrisburg while it rained three days, "that was only 40 years ago."

"Would any of the boys who huddled there then like to try it again?"

Bits Pieced Together

Though many of the landmarks of the old town have vanished, enough remain to serve as attachment points for many bits of interesting and significant story. One that has a definite place in the state's history. If there were giants in those days, some walked in Shawneetown. If there were ghosts lingering from the past, we should meet them there on such nights as ghosts go about. Shawneetown, among the region's very oldest towns, came as an unplanned one. When white men came they found a camp of Shawnee Indians on the north bank of the Ohio in what is now Gallatin county. In the early 1790's a trading post was in operation. Michael Sprinkle, a competent craftsman, came to ply his trade of gunsmithing. Hardly realizing it, Shawneetown had begun.

Since it was near the Equality salt works, it became a legitimate shipping point for the product of the territory's first industry. It also was a convenient point for receiving supplies and equipment for the salt works. Settlers soon began to come with their plunder (household equipment, tools and supplies) and place places for homes. Part of these stopped at Shawneetown and chopped off small fields in which to grow corn, pumpkins, potatoes, beans and other garden truck. The crews of passing flatboatsmen and workmen at the salt works provided markets.

In a short time a sizeable but unplanned village was there. It became such before any plat or layout for the town had been made. Land speculators for the national government had not penetrated so far into the interior. United States soldiers accordingly came to survey and plat a town. In this way Shawneetown shares with our nation's capital the singular distinction of having been planned by government engineers.

In 1816, 120 years ago, the first bank in Illinois Territory began business in the John Marshall residence, still standing, boarded up and neglected, against the levee down-river from the point where Illinois Highway 13 joins lands one in Illinois, began publication, came to receive recognition as the financial capital of the state. Wholesale houses soon sprang up to supply the many country stores of southeastern Illinois. The U. S. Land Office came to its story would be intriguing.

Young Mother, 23, Found Dead at Home

A young expectant mother, 23, was found dead at her home in St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:05 p.m. Tuesday. She was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:05 p.m. An inquest will be conducted by Deputy Coroner Robert Thomas. According to Madison county sheriff's deputies who were summoned to the home, Mrs. Ballhorn had been hospitalized for a nervous condition about three years ago and had displayed despondency for several weeks. Born in Granite City, Mrs. Ballhorn lived here her entire life and attended local schools. She was a member of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church. Besides her husband, she is survived by a ten-month-old daughter, Christine; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kubelka of Granite City; two sisters, Mrs.

Donald (Pauline) Stark of Belleville and Miss Victoria Lynn Kubelka of Granite City; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Harlow of Granite City; her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ballhorn of Granite City; and a grandmother-in-law, Mrs. Helen Ballhorn of Venice. Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Arrested Twice Here In Less Than 5 Hours

An East St. Louis man, booked at 10:25 a.m. yesterday on a bad check charge and released at 3:30 p.m. after making restitution, was re-arrested less than an hour later on a traffic violation along with a companion who was driving his automobile.

Police were called at 4:25 p.m. by Frank E. Banks was arrested for driving without a license and improper lane.

The Banks vehicle was found to be registered to McCortell, a passenger in the car, who was re-arrested for permitting an unauthorized person to operate a motor vehicle. Both men are to appear in magistrate's court on Jan. 19.

Man in Accident

duct where Broadway becomes Madison avenue in Madison.

The car ran into the parking lot of Stone's Auto Sales, which is in Venice, where it struck a parked 1964 model auto. Johnson's car careened back into Madison avenue, heading across the entire four-lane street, to crash into Pete's Market, a building located in Madison.

Johnson and Neisler were taken by ambulance to the hospital, where Johnson was pronounced dead.

Police authorities said that in event a coroner's jury holds the death due to the accident, the traffic fatality will be recorded in Madison.

Two Hurt in Venice

Two men were injured at 8:20 p.m. yesterday in a collision on the County Road near the south gate of the Army Depot in Venice. Police reported the injured were Odell Clinton, 17, of 113 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, and Stanley Allison, 43, of St. Louis, drivers of the two cars.

Officers said both cars were treated for minor damage when Clinton stopped for a train and Allison's car struck the rear of Clinton's car. Clinton was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a back injury and released. Allison was treated for abdomen pains.

Three persons were injured when auto driven by Raymond Jones, 46, of 2001 Illinois avenue, and Jerry R. Wilson, 28, of 225 Alexander street, collided about 5 p.m. Tuesday at 20th street and Madison avenue.

Jones and Wilson complained of pains. Harriet Jones, 48, of the Illinois avenue address, had visible injuries. Jones was charged with a right-of-way violation with a control present.

Elda Lee Willis, 38, of 3246 Westchester drive, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital last night for injuries received late Tuesday afternoon in an auto accident in St. Louis. She was treated for an injury to the right arm and for pains in the head and chest, and released. Details of the accident were unavailable.

Marjorie Strauss, 49, of 2236 East 25th street, received treatment at 4:40 p.m. yesterday at St. Elizabeth Hospital for back pains and a right shoulder injury received in a traffic accident.

He worked at McDonnell Aircraft before beginning a three-year enlistment in February 1966. He is the son of Mrs. Ginger Warren and her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoffman, all of Granite City.

Opportunity knocks, but it's up to us to open the door.

March of Dimes Canister Distribution Starts

Starting last night and continuing through the weekend, members of the Madison County Young Democrats organization, under the leadership of Leslie Caton and Danny Churovich, are distributing March of Dimes canisters to Granite City and rural area business firms. It was announced today by Mrs. Bernadine Hagler, 1927 March of Dimes chairman for Granite City, Pontoon Beach, Mitchell and Stalling.

Mrs. Julia Voloski, who is spearheading Madison's annual fund-raising campaign, reports that donation canisters will be placed in business firms in that community, beginning Saturday morning. Distribution will be by members of the Madison Junior Service Club.

Informative booklets, other literature and envelopes for distribution to local schools and homes later this month also is being prepared and packaged this week, the local campaign leader reports.

Madison Avenue Arrests

Norbert Wallace of the Chain of Rocks Trailer Park was issued a ticket for speeding at 1:20 a.m. today in the 3000 block of Madison avenue, while Henry J. Nobus, 1916 Lynn avenue, was arrested at 4:25 p.m. yesterday, at the same location for careless driving.

A "The recommendation pointed out that as the district contains 1700 square miles, it may be feasible to establish more than one campus to accommodate all the students without excessive commuting time and distance. The local board would determine this.

The report noted that the percentage of high school graduates attending college is increasing, they have selective admission policies, do not offer a wide range of vocational and technical studies and maintain rather high tuition rates.

State aid support would be provided and a tuition charge would be authorized.

Summarize Statements

Speakers from Granite City were William Hoelscher, general manager and secretary of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities; Sister Mary Thomas, administrator of St. Elizabeth Hospital; and G. H. Sternberg, contractor representing the industrial advancement foundation of the Southern Illinois Builders Association.

Hoelscher emphasized the need of a two-year program in specialized vocational, technical fields for the mutual benefit of the future work force of the community and the industries and businesses who will provide employment.

He added that the Madison county area has been suffering a serious shortage of personnel over the last year, with employment rates dipping below two percent and vocationally and technically trained personnel being almost impossible to obtain.

Sister Mary Thomas stressed the immediate need for technicians, the high competition for public funds, especially in taxes, laboratories, pharmacies, the op-superintendent of public instruction.

He said that looking ahead "to the next chapter in our history, the two great issues we face are governmental reorganization and greater educational opportunities."

To Raise School Age

In the matter of education he recommended that the age of compulsory education be raised to 18 years or high school graduation.

In recommending an open occupancy law, he told the legislators that "moral, social and economic source of discrimination continues to fester in the body and soul of our nation."

He did not outline any tax proposals, but remarked that "the need for new revenue" will be the greatest in our history, notably in the field of education. The state treasury, he said, will have a balance of $20 million at the end of the current two-year budget period on June 30.

The governor said he will present many additional messages to the legislators in the weeks to come, with one on law enforcement scheduled next week.

so move." A unanimous vote then was taken by roll call to make Tolar's re-election as president.

Tolar told the Press-Record that his election as president this year "is my last... I'm bowing out."

Terms of leave board members expire next year and all five posts will be open to election in the 1968 general election.

Tolar announced reappointment of all current officersholders, with the exception of Blanche Runyon of East St. Louis, a leave board employee for ten years and now chief deputy clerk, who plans to retire. To the office of chief clerk Tolar appointed Mrs. Shirley Praxada of Belleville. She has been a clerk in the leave district office for four months.

Three Enlist in Army, One for Second Time

A Granite City reservist has re-enlisted for active duty in the Army and two youths enlisted under the guaranteed option plan, Sfc James E. Maddox, local Army recruiter, announced.

Richard G. Miller, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, 2812 Dogwood drive, who previously served six months active duty with the Army reserves and 7½ years in a reserve unit, is undergoing basic training at Fort Polk, La. A 1956 graduate of Granite City high school, he selected warrant officer flight training as his enlistment option.

Enlisting were Michael A. Rains, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Rains, 910 Twenty-fourth street, and Gary D. Frost, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin D. Frost, 2017 Bryan avenue.

Both are receiving basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Rains selected radar repair school as his enlistment option, and Frost chose auto mechanics.

MORE THAN HALF OF THE NATION'S COMMON STOCK SHAREHOLDERS ALSO OWN U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

ANTIQUES...

The longer you keep them, the more they're worth.

If you bought a U.S. Savings Bond in 1941, it would now be worth more than twice the money you paid for it.

Series E Bonds, you see, have never stopped growing. And now that the interest rate on new E and H Bonds has been raised to 4.15%, your older bonds will earn proportionately more, too, for their remaining period to next maturity. So Savings Bonds are better to buy, and hold, than ever. But that's only one reason why you should buy Savings Bonds.

You see, while Savings Bonds are building your financial security, they're also building your country's security. Because as your money grows, it helps support our fighting men in Vietnam—and keeps our economy strong.

Buying Bonds is easy!
Simply sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This way, money is automatically set aside from your paycheck—and applied toward the purchase of a Savings Bond. And you can also buy Bonds automatically through the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank.

C. E. Townsend to Leave Bi-State As Term Expires

C. E. Townsend, publisher of the Granite City Press-Record, said today that he will leave the Bi-State Development Agency as a board member and chairman when his current term expires Jan. 16.

Townsend, who served on the commission that founded the Bi-State agency, was appointed to the board of commissioners in April 1969, became vice-chairman in October 1969 and was made chairman in March 1969.

In a letter to Gov. Otto Kerner asking that he not be considered for reappointment to the agency board, Townsend said that "increased responsibilities of a growing newspaper, together with an obligation to give more time to the activities of my expanding home community, make this decision necessary."

Townsend said the "Bi-State agency, particularly in the last four years, has grown substantially and currently operates four public service projects with a total value of around $38 million. However, there still remains much that can be done for the benefit of the people in this section of Illinois, as well as the metropolitan St. Louis area . . . for this reason a full complement of Illinois commissioners is vital."

In leaving Bi-State, Townsend also will leave the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council on which he represents the agency, and the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Planning Commission on which he also is a Bi-State representative. A Bi-State spokesman said today that reorganization of the board of commissioners will not be undertaken until after Gov. Kerner appoints a new commissioner to succeed Townsend. Kerner Knapp, president of the St. Louis firm of Knapp-Monarch, is now vice-chairman.

Adult Driver Classes Still Have Vacancies

Welding classes are almost filled but driver training—sometimes filled on the opening day of registration—is still open. It was learned today from A. M. Witte, Granite City vocational and adult education director. An extra sewing group has been created and has vacancies. Winter term classes will begin Jan. 9.

Night school enrollment began Tuesday and will continue through 9 o'clock tonight, plus 9 gift found by Robert Johnson, 2318 Waterman avenue, has been taken to San Quentin penitentiary where they will die in the gas chamber if appeals are unsuccessful. They were arrested in Venice the publication date and claimed last July 30 and were turned over to the U. S. marshal.

Children with Matches Cause $1000 Fire Loss

Children playing with matches caused $1000 damage at a two-story, six-room house occupied by Charles Edwards at 1437 Madison avenue at 10 p.m. Wednesday.

Firemen said the fire started in a second floor closet, causing a loss of $500 to the building and $500 to the contents. Firemen were at the scene about an hour and a half. Owner of the building is James Barton.

A short circuit in the wiring in a cross at the top of the First Free Will Baptist Church in the 3000 block of East 23rd street at 9:15 p.m. Wednesday caused $200 damage, firemen added.

Trash and field fires were reported at 4:20 p.m. Wednesday at 1733 Cleveland blvd. and at 5:20 p.m. Wednesday in a field between Olive and Chestnut streets which firemen burned off.

Nutrition Speaker

Dr. Ruth Brennan, St. Louis county health department nutritionist, will speak on "Nutrition Happenings" at a monthly dinner meeting of Home Economists in Business of Greater St. Louis at 6 p.m. Tuesday at the Chevre Inn.

Success and bad habits are very seldom on speaking terms.

Venice Action on Audio-Visual Aid Education Center

Venice school board members Tuesday night approved an initial application for an estimated $89,000 in federal funds to establish an audio-visual aid materials center for Venice and Madison students.

If similar action is taken by the Madison board of education, the application for a grant from Title III funds is to be filed with Illinois school authorities in Springfield prior to Jan. 15.

Venice Supt. John O. Pier told board members that preliminary discussions with state education officials indicated the request has a good chance of receiving state and federal approval.

Last month, the Venice board learned that by combining the school population of the two local districts, both would be eligible for financial assistance under Title III.

The superintendent said the $89,000 probably would finance for a three-year period a fully equipped and centrally located audio-visual aid library center, staffed by a program supervisor and clerical assistants.

It was learned the initial request for Title III funds will not contain any provision for acquisition of three portable buildings which were discussed at length at the Venice board's December session.

Pier explained that a second proposal will be submitted at a later date to federal authorities, seeking approval for one or more portable structures to be utilized by the district as a health center and counseling facility.

FBI Finds No Election Fraud in County Vote

No evidence of election fraud had been found in Madison county by the FBI in an investigation of the Nov. 8 general election, U. S. Atty. Richard E. Eagleton said this week in Springfield.

Charges of election fraud had been filed by John B. Moss of Granite City, who was defeated for state senator by Paul Simon of Troy.

Moss claimed that three persons registered to vote in Precinct 4 in Granite City did not reside in the district. Eagleton said the three did not vote in the precinct.

He also claimed that in Pin Oak township 314 persons voted while only 210 were registered. The investigation showed that 559 voters were registered in the township.

quest for Title III funds will not contain any provision for acquisition of three portable buildings which were discussed at length at the Venice board's December session.

Pier explained that a second proposal will be submitted at a later date to federal authorities, seeking approval for one or more portable structures to be utilized by the district as a health center and counseling facility.

They have two daughters.

Weapons Stolen from GC Proprietor in Godfrey

County sheriff's deputies are investigating the theft of sporting goods valued at more than $1000, mostly guns, from the Bickhaus Sporting Goods Co., Godfrey, Monday night.

The firm is operated by Ernest Bickhaus, owner of the Bellemore Sporting Goods store here. He reported the loss of 12 shotguns, eight rifles, 24 pistols, two blank pistols, 30 boxes of shells, a pair of binoculars and $50 in cash.

SECOND PLACE national street-bike competition was won by Gordon Pearson, 3037 Dale avenue, at the recent International Auto Show held in St. Louis. He was awarded a 3-foot trophy for the chrome, fleck-painted bike entry.

Justifiable Homicide Ruled in Johnson Death

A verdict of justifiable homicide was returned last night by a coroner jury in the inquest held at Highland in the death of Lester M. Johnson, chief of police at Troy and a former Quaker Cityan, who died at Highland Christmas Eve following an altercation outside a club at Troy.

Deputy Coroner Robert L. Spengel of Highland, who conducted the inquest, said testimony was given by the owners of Lee and Bea's club and by several patrons "who don't be recommending any action by the grand jury," Spengel said.

Charged with murder in the death was Joseph I. Brendel of Troy, who is free on $2000 bond. He did not testify at the inquest.

Johnson, 52, was a former trustee of the Pontoon Beach village. His survivors are his wife, Virginia; two sons, Lester Eugene and David LeRoy Johnson; two daughters, Mrs. Shirley Jean Flaugh and Mrs. Betty Great house; his mother, Mrs. Minerva Johnson; two brothers, William and Floyd Johnson; a sister Mrs. Gertrude Lelaoran, and seven grandchildren.

Holiday Gift Claimed Through a Press-Record news article Dec. 29, a lost Christmas gift found by Robert Johnson, 2318 Waterman avenue, has been taken to San Quentin penitentiary where they will die in the gas chamber if appeals are unsuccessful. They were arrested in Venice the publication date and claimed last July 30 and were turned over to the U. S. marshal.

Damaged in Madison

A car driven by Paul T. Ashford, 1865 Second street, Madison, was damaged in the left rear 3:20 p.m. yesterday in an accident at Farish and Sken streets in Madison. Police reported Ashford's car was struck as it was backed out of a parking lot.

Driver of the other car, police said, was Gary L. Townzen, 1920 Harris street, Madison. Townzen was headed north on Farish street.

Brawley Gets Death Sentence for Murder Kenneth Lloyd Brawley, 20-year-old Granite City serviceman, and an associate were given the death sentence in San Diego, Calif., Wednesday for the holdup-murder of a California taxicab driver.

He and Larry Andrew Baker, 22, of Martinez, Calif., were found guilty in December by a San Diego jury of the murder of Lewis Brewer, 35, in National City, Calif. The two were AWOL from their naval unit at San Diego when the crime occurred.

Motion for a new trial and sentences of life imprisonment were denied by Superior Court Judge Robert Conyers who pronounced sentence.

Under California law, the death sentence will be under automatic appeal. The two were to be taken to San Quentin penitentiary where they will die in the gas chamber if appeals are unsuccessful. They were arrested in Venice the publication date and claimed last July 30 and were turned over to the U. S. marshal.

Some machines even have a high-school education

(Shouldn't you do at least that well?)

Even a machine needs a good education to get a good job today. So the message should be clear to you.

Jobs are becoming much more complicated. Much more demanding. And that's why more and more employers are insisting on a good education as the number-one job requirement.

Now more than ever, a good education isn't some kind of luxury. It's an absolute necessity!

The plain fact is . . . to get a good job today, you need a good education. So don't let anything stop you from getting one.

If you're in school now . . . stay there! Learn all you can for as long as you can. If you're out of school, you can still get plenty of valuable training outside the classroom. For full details, talk to the Youth Counselor at your State Employment Service. Or visit a Youth Opportunity Center.

To get a good job, get a good education

Madison, Venice Mayors Protest Sewage Charges

Madison and Venice city officials, headed by Mayors Stephen

Maeras and John E. Lee, renewed their investigation of agreements and monthly rental rates of the levee district sewer treatment program yesterday in a meeting with A. L. Kraemer, chief engineer of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District.

A conference was held in the levee district offices at East St. Louis prior to the regular meeting of the levee board for the purpose of obtaining further data concerning contracts signed between the levee district and the cities of Venice and Madison for participation of the two municipalities in the levee district's sewerage treatment program.

Officials said no conclusions were reached and that the meeting was only an exploratory one to obtain information as to whether monthly rental fees for sewer users can be reduced if additional participants in the program sign contracts with the levee district. The National Stockyards area recently announced it will become part of the sewer program which will serve a number of communities throughout the area, including Madison and Venice. These two cities signed contracts with the city of Collinsville or other communities decided to participate in the program, the additional income from their areas would make a rate reduction possible, to possibly as low as 50 cents.

Now, Mayor Lee told the levee board last month, Venice and Madison households are paying more than $1.25 per month. Although the "minimum" rental charge is fixed at $1.15 per month, the water consumption basis on which bills are issued is such that the monthly charge exceeds the promised $1.25 per month limit. In Granite City, the monthly charge is 90 cents.

The Quad-City officials also have asked the levee district to fulfill part of the agreement providing construction of a storm-water sewer in North Venice, but the levee district engineers say this part of the agreement was stricken before it was signed by Venice and Madison Levee district officials.

Further meetings between levee board and Quad-City officials are expected as a result of the disagreement.

MORE ABOUT Weekly SIU

seminar participants and given additional leadership training and supervision, Dr. Troyer told the Press-Record.

Each workshop session will include a discussion of the human relations difficulties in a typical family. Emphasis will be on human interaction, with the goal of preventing trouble before it develops.

"Experience has shown that there are many advantages in having group sessions," Dr. Troyer explained.

"We all face similar difficulties and can really learn through open discussion."

Analyze Specific Situations
"By analyzing specific human relations situations, we not only learn from the mistakes we all make, but learn about many possible suggestions for improvement."

"Visitors are welcome, and we feel that many people can learn to become better parents and teachers through regular attendance. One of the most important advantages is the influence members of the group have on each other as they share their learning and progress week after week."

During the past two years, workshop groups have been meeting regularly in Granite City, Collinsville and Alton on an experimental basis, with faculty members and graduate students volunteering their time. Enthusiasm for the technique has developed, and the attendance has indicated sustaining interest, Dr. Troyer said.

Under the $29,572 program for 1966-67, workshops are to be scheduled in at least three urban areas of Madison and St. Clair counties, and many small parent study groups are to be organized.

Among those being invited to participate are leaders in men's and women's service groups, church groups, PTA and Kiwanis, police and juvenile officers, parents and others interested in family education.

Reduce Delinquency
Long-range hope is that large numbers of people will gain greater understanding of child and youth behavior, creating a community-wide atmosphere in which youngsters are stimulated to become responsible citizens.

As more and more adults learn effective methods of encouraging desirable social behavior in the young, such problems as delinquency and irresponsible youth can be kept to minimum, Dr. Troyer believes, and "many more children will have a better chance to become what they are capable of becoming."

End result may be "an increase in the feelings of belonging, worth and dignity."

GC Jaycees to Observe National Week

Schuler Drug Store Goes Out of Business

Schuler's drug store at Fourth street and Madison avenue, Madison, this week closed its business, it was announced by Michael Schuler, manager.

Customer files on prescriptions have been transferred to the Vaughn and Midtown pharmacies in Granite City, operated by Schuler's brother, Paul Schuler, and Donald Vaughn.

The store has operated at the location since 1938 when it was opened by Fred Schuler, pharmacist. He conducted the business until his death about a year and a half ago.

Schuler said excess stock currently is being sold. Deposition of the building, which has living quarters on the second floor, has not been announced. Vaughn and Paul Schuler recently purchased the stock at Cook's pharmacy which last year went out of business a block away at 501 Madison avenue.

Sarcastic remarks that you left unsaid will never haunt you.

Granite City Jaycees activities spanning the past year will be climaxed at the annual awards and "Bosses Night" banquet to be held on Wednesday, Jan. 25, at the Rose Bowl restaurant.

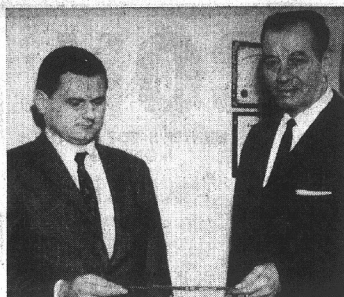

The occasion takes place midway through "National Jaycee Week" to be observed Jan. 22-28.

A highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the Distinguished Service Award, given annually to a local young man for noteworthy civic achievement.

Young men between the ages of 21-35 are eligible for the award, according to Roger Ward, Jaycee project chairman. Ward said today that additional names are being sought from organizations and individuals for the DSA award.

Commemorating the founding of the Jaycee organization in St. Louis in January 1920, "Jaycee Week" focuses on the numerous services performed by the young men's organization in civic, cultural and community affairs.

Annual projects sponsored by the Granite City Jaycees, include the youth sports jamboree, the State sports jamboree was held in Granite City in 1966, bowling sweepstakes, homecoming celebration, Christmas home-lighting contest, teenage safe-driving contest and the Miss Granite City Pageant.

Local members also provide assistance at free monthly immunization clinics at St. Elizabeth Hospital, and from funds derived from benefit projects have purchased a proscopio for the hospital, which was presented at the Jaycee-sponsored hospital Christmas party. The club participated in promoting civic support in the move to secure state funds for the widening and improvement of Nantuxet road and lights and gates at the Maryville road railroad crossing.

Strikes Parked Car

A parked car owned by Alvina C. Darnell, 4140 Division avenue, was damaged in the 1000 block of Reynolds street in Madison at 5:30 p.m. Monday. It previously was reported erroneously the car was being driven at the time of the accident. The car was struck by one driven by Stanley Banaszak Jr. of 1012 Alton avenue, Madison.

Leaders of Girl Scout Neighborhood Four will hold their January meeting next Monday at 7:30 p.m. at St. John Lutheran Church, St. Clair avenue at Dale avenue.

A Girl Scout "Thinking Day" program will be given by members of Senior Scout Troop 110 following a business meeting.

1954	1139	427	44
1955	1572	486	26
1956	1542	607	27
1957	1657	617	28

1964	2260	1153	24
1965	2270	1149	23
1966	2340	1275	30

Traffic accidents occurred in the Quad-City area at the rate of 6.4 accidents for every day of 1966—resulting in a total of 2340 mishaps, injury of 1275 persons and 30 traffic deaths.

The death-toll average reached one every nine days.

The number of traffic fatalities was an increase of 70% over the total of 23 auto accident deaths reported in the area during 1965 and the highest number of fatalities for any single year since 1954 when 44 persons were killed in area traffic accidents.

Statistics show a total of 24 fatalities during the 1964 year and 36 traffic deaths in 1965. In contrast, however, is the comparison of the number of accidents. The 2340 accidents reported during 1966 was an increase of only 3% over the 2270 accidents occurring in 1965. The total of 1275 injury cases increased 20% over the 1149 injuries of 1965, while the fatality statistics showed the 70% jump.

The number of injury cases resulting from traffic accidents last year was the highest of any year for which records are available back to 1954.

The 44 traffic fatalities of 1954, oddly enough, resulted from 1139 accidents, less than half the number of 1966 accidents, with only 427 injury cases during the weekend. Police said Boreck told them the bullet went into another room where it knocked a photograph off the television set.

Bullet Fired into House

William Boreck, 1328 Biron street, Venice, reported to Venice police Tuesday afternoon that a .38 caliber bullet was fired through a bathroom window on the west side of his house during the weekend. Police said Boreck told them the bullet went into another room where it knocked a photograph off the television set.

The police are to be held at 4008 Pontoon road, with Rev. Gus Fuller Jr., pastor, officiating.

The family has suggested that any contributions in his memory be sent to the Navy Mothers Club. The national Navy Mothers organization aids Navy bases and hospitals, assists relatives of Navy personnel and is creating a memorial at Valley Forge, Pa.

have shown a steady increase the past 12-year period, while the annual number of fatalities has fluctuated up and down without regard to the number of accidents or injury cases.

For example, the 1139 accidents reported in 1954, along with 427 injury cases and 44 fatalities, was followed in 1955 with 1572 accidents and 608 injuries, a substantial increase in both instances, but only 26 fatalities. New Design Driver License Now Being Issued by State

Issuance of newly-designed driver licenses, with distinctive color combinations to distinguish licenses issued to minors from those issued to adults, has begun, Secretary of State Paul Powell announced today.

The first group of the new licenses, which also features added safeguards against alteration, went into the mail this week.

"It is our hope and belief that these new types of licenses and the safeguards against alteration will help law enforcement officers and business establishments in the proper identification of drivers," Secretary Powell said.

The licenses issued to minors are predominantly red and gold, featuring a large gold Great Seal of the state of Illinois in the center, surrounded by smaller seals in red. Those issued to adults are predominantly blue and green, featuring a picture of the state capital.

1967 Farm Conservation Program Sign-Up Starts

The Agricultural Conservation Program for 1967 will again encourage farmers to sign up for production of surplus crops to conserving land uses and to establish practices for conservation of soil, water, woodland and wildlife, where needed, according to Lee Rogers, office manager, Madison County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in Edwardsville.

Rogers explained that the local cost-sharing program has been formulated within the national program authority, to include practices which will best meet the conservation problems of the county. This is done annually by an ACP Development Group, composed of the local committee, Soil Conservation Service technicians, and Farm Foresters in consultation with other conservation leaders.

As in previous years, the county ASC committee will administer the program and will relate it to work plans of the local soil and water conservation district. The Soil Conservation Service and Forestry agencies are responsible for technical phases of certain practices. A list of approved ACP practices—for which the program will again cover approximately half the cost—is available at the ASCS county office, 110 North Main street in Edwardsville.

In announcing the 1967 Agricultural Conservation Program, Rogers said, "Rural lands are the source of nearly all the nation's food and fiber, but if neglected these lands are also the source of soil erosion and silted streams. The farm fields where ACP is helping to promote conservation measures contribute vitally to clean usable water for the day-to-day living of our towns and cities as well as for the industry which provides employment for their people. At the same time the program's conservation projects conserve agricultural resources, they bring other secondary benefits through creating more wildlife habitat and recreation opportunities."

"I hope that more and more farmers will use the program this year to bring about needed land-use adjustments such as shifting land out of row crops and small grains to vegetative cover which has enduring benefits."

Sign-up for the 1967 program is under way. Farmers interested in ACP practices should make inquiry at the earliest opportunity. SCS technicians and farm foresters have more time for planning now than they will have when spring starts.

Nameoki Twp. to Repair Street, Bill Utility

Because the municipally owned Collinsville Water Co. has failed to properly repair five blocks of a street it excavated for installation of a water main, the highway department of Nameoki township will do the work, the utility, Charles Hanks, highway commissioner, told the Nameoki town board in regular meeting Tuesday night.

Hanks said the water company "ditched five blocks" of West Point drive in State Park Place to install a new main. He said the water company merely filled in the ditch with dirt and scattered a small amount of rock on it.

The edge of the street is in bad shape and will have to be graded and rocked, Hanks said, adding that the water company had been notified it would be required to improve the shoulder of the road.

"We gave the company a week's time to comply with our request, but because of the holidays it has had ten days or two weeks and still has made no effort to repair the street," the highway commissioner said. The ditch has created particular havoc to entrances to residential driveways, he said.

The town board conducted only routine business in the Tuesday night session. It approved a request by Township Assessor Joseph Coban to employ three deputy assessors to assist in the new quadrennial assessment of property this year. The board approved payment of $12 per day for inside work and $18 per day for outside work, the same as last year.

Delays Naming Committee
Supervisor Harry Briggs told the board he has not yet named a committee to meet with the Madison County Board of Review on the necessity of increasing Nameoki township property assessments to bring the assessment ratio above the 50% fair cash value level required by the Illinois State Department of Revenue. He said he plans to talk first with county officials and there may be no need to name a committee.

Michael Ropac, representing the Welfare Improvement Association, asked the board what ac-

Social Security Changes Pertain to Students

Ralph Brasher, social security district manager in East St. Louis pointed out today that the 1965 amendments to the Social Security law included a provision that permits continuing Social Security benefit payments to students between ages 18 and 22.

Brasher explained that these benefit payments can be made for the summer vacation months so long as the child was in full-time attendance before the vacation period began, and resumes his schooling at the end of the vacation period.

These student benefits, in common with all social security payments, are not received automatically; formal applications must be filed to secure them. Any office of the Social Security Administration will furnish additional information or assistance on this, or any other social security matter.

The district office servicing this area is located at 435 Missouri avenue, East St. Louis; phone, BRIDGE 4-2200 and EXpress 7-5530.

The Veterans Administration outpatient clinic is moving from its present location this week to the Cochran VA Hospital in St. Louis.

"Better service can and will be provided for veterans in a hospital setting," Dr. Francis G. Dickey, director of Cochran, said. The Pine street clinic in St. Louis had averaged 130 outpatient visits a day, five days a week, all service-connected disabilities.

A branch post office formerly at Cochran has been closed to provide space for the clinic operation, and a two-story, five-apartment building formerly occupied by the Cochran staff also will be converted into use.

Construction of a new $3 million eight-story building to provide space for the clinic and outpatient clinic and research facilities is to start in June 1968, and open in 1970.

Geography Students Equipped for Anything

The earth hasn't grown any bigger since you were in grade school, but geography certainly has.

Youngsters are still trying to match up the capital cities with mistics, then studied meteorology in the Air Force, and went on to the principal products of Argentina. On the other hand, you might find surprising some of the climatology and microclimate things they can do these days if they carry their study of geography through college.

Take the program at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus. They're turning out geographers equipped to go to work as city planners, meteorologists, photo interpreters, Central Intelligence Agency investigators, recreation specialists, and economic and industrial developers.

Geography graduates may get jobs picking new store locations for Montgomery-Ward, analyzing data for the Census Bureau, working on conservation projects.

Cover Lot of Ground
In other words, jobs in geography cover a lot of ground. And geography itself is a meeting ground for other fields like sociology, anthropology, and economics. One SIU-SW Campus faculty member summed up geography into one reaches 400-500 students a "eclectic" status, as a science which borrows the best from other disciplines.

In any case, geography faculty members at the new campus are as far apart in their specialties literally and figuratively, as Washington is from Hanoi.

First, there are the earth science scholars, who are more interested in resources and statistics than they are in people. The economic geographers are concerned with such problems as food production and improved living environments. The cultural geographers are more nearly akin to the anthropologists, taking ing historical as well as political perspectives.

The SIU-SW Campus geography chairman, Melvin E. Kazbeck, started out to major in mathematics, then studied meteorology in the Air Force, and went on to the principal products of Argentina. On the other hand, you might find surprising some of the climatology and microclimate things they can do these days if they carry their study of geography through college.

Experienced Planner
Dr. Carl Lousau, who teaches the urban planning courses, has had planning experience on the Chicago Planning Commission, the St. Louis Planning Commission, and the University's Publication and Information Center in St. Louis. Dr. Lousau tries to "create a geographer first, who has the training to work effectively within a planning agency."

In his classes, students learn how to work for more effective use of land - traffic, circulation, parks and school development, and such. They also may elect to take courses in subjects like sociology and government.

All SIU-SW juniors must take either advanced courses in the natural sciences or Conservation of Natural Resources, and this member summed up geography into one reaches 400-500 students a "eclectic" status, as a science which borrows the best from other disciplines.

The reason the course is taught in St. Louis is that the students have $500,000 worth of equipment to work with there. Kazbeck also said the Center has offered to loan the University some $50,000 in equipment, but he hasn't found an appropriate place to put it yet.

If they wish, students can apply for admission to a work-study plan wherein they take university classes for half a year and work at the Chart Center the other half. Though aerial photos are miles removed from vegetables, geography relates to both. There's a course in agricultural geography on the books at SIU and the man assigned to teach it, Dr. James E. Collier, is conducting research on the sources of supply of fruit and vegetables coming into produce markets in 41 cities. He's also done an agricultural atlas of Missouri.

Calhoun County, north of the new campus, may come under study by the SIU-SW geographers soon, but it won't have anything to do with the apples and grain produced there. Economic geographers are interested in the county's relative isolation from larger population centers, how this came to be, and can anything—development of tourism, perhaps—be done to help.

Local, Regional Problems
As the graduate program at SIU-SW grows, there will be an increasing application of knowledge to real local and regional problems.

In transportation, industrial parks, population patterns, pockets of poverty, agglomeration of commercial buildings. Weather. The role of climate and topography in recreation planning. Map-making. All fall into the geographers' world.

A lot of other more obvious things do, too, of course. Like—quick now—what's the capital of South Dakota?

GSI Now Controls Pipe Protection Firm on E. Coast

General Steel Industries, Inc., of Granite City has assumed control of Pipe Protection Service, Inc./Kearny, N. J., and will operate it as a wholly-owned subsidiary under terms of an agreement previously announced in September.

Pipe Protection Service shareholders received 42,500 shares of GSI common stock for all outstanding shares of Pipe Protection Service, a leading applicator of non-corrosive coatings for various types of pipe and tube. Pipe Protection Service will be operated as a unit of GSI's Standard Pipeprotection Division, St. Louis, which also has plants in Alton, Houston, Tex., and Pittsburgh, Calif.

"The addition of the new pipe coating facility at Kearny, N. J., is significant for GSI since it brings our pipe operations into the important east coast market area," W. Ashley Gray Jr., GSI president, announced.

"We are impressed by the growth opportunities of the pipe coating industry with the ever-increasing need for gas, oil and water transmission lines." With the addition of the new plant, GSI now has 16 plants in seven states and Canada grouped into six operating divisions. GSI shares are traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

IRS Director Issues Reminder On Income Tax

Illinois taxpayers are being reminded that the law requires them to list their correct social Security number on Federal income tax return.

If husband and wife each have income and file a joint return, they should list both numbers in the spaces provided on page 1 of the 1966 Federal income tax return. If the wife has no income, however, the husband's number will suffice, Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said.

Omission of the number, or entering an incorrect number, delays the processing of the return. "If you do not have a social security number, application Form SS-5 may be obtained from your local Internal Revenue

Alcoholic Day Program Starts at Hospital

Treatment units in the alcoholic program at Alton State Hospital are taking on further responsibilities in the new session beginning this week, according to Dr. Abraham Simon, superintendent.

He said it would be called the alcoholic day program and will be continued under the direction of Nurse Bernice Ruedin, coordinator.

Madison, St. Clair and eastern county units took over housing of alcoholic patients at the hospital in October. The move was in keeping with caring for more patients according to their geographical residency. Alcoholics formerly lived at the alcoholic center located on the second floor of the special services building.

The county units also will provide the staff for educational and therapeutic lectures on a regular basis in the new session. Previously, the alcoholic staff led discussions, with occasional talks by unit representatives and visiting speakers.

AA Works Closely

It was emphasized that Alcoholics Anonymous and other community elements will continue to work closely with the hospital's center while they are in the hospital and following their discharge.

Despite increased activity by units, the program will continue to be guided by the alcoholic center under the supervision of Dr. Julio Garrido, clinical director, and Mrs. Ruedin did the spadework on the project in the fall of 1965 when the center was established.

"The program has more depth now than ever," Dr. Garrido said. "Other than these minor changes and the transfer of reins to another coordinator, there has been no letdown in treatment." Several patients are registered for the new session, including volunteers and those committed by the courts. Their stay will be governed by the mental health code and they will receive treatment according to individual needs. "At present," Mrs. Ruedin said, "only male patients are enrolled, but we expect to include female patients later on."

Mrs. Ruedin emphasized the program is open to anyone who needs help, with no limit set on the number. Previously only a few could be accommodated, she noted.

Dr. Simon said the latest provisions were "in keeping with hospital philosophy that all patients should receive maximum therapeutic benefit."

He has started discussion with out-patient clinics, encouraging them to gear their services to alcoholics, with emphasis on treating those who remain in the community. He also is requesting their assistance in follow-up care for such patients.

Illini Mothers Prepare Student Survival Kits

Student survival kits are being readied by the University of Illinois Mothers Association for delivery Jan. 12 and 13 on the Champaign-Urbana campus.

Many university students find the packages a morale booster during the tense period of study which precedes final examinations each semester. Mrs. Lucille Caban, association chairman for Madison county reports.

To ensure delivery before finals begin on Jan. 14, orders for kits, together with a $3.25 check or money order, must be received prior to next Tuesday at the U. of I. Mothers Association, Office of Dean of Women, 610 East John street, Champaign, Ill. 61820.

Mrs. Caban said that each kit contains such items as instant soup mix, gum, candy, popcorn, instant coffee, tea and hot chocolate. By adding an extra dollar for parcel post charges, the "hairmen" pointed out, association members also will mail a survival package to servicemen outside the United States.

The project has been well received by U. of I. students in previous years, Mrs. Caban added.

Action Deferred on GC Ward Redistricting Ordinance

Confusion for candidates preparing to file for city offices last week was predicted following Tuesday night's deferral action on an ordinance to redistrict Granite City's eight wards.

Several aldermen pointed out that candidates for aldermanic offices "won't know what areas to go into to get signatures on their petitions"; but the deferral action was carried out. The next meeting on the council is set for Jan. 16.

Deferral was called for by Aldermen Moerlein of the First Ward and Whitmer of the Second Ward.

Recognition of the requests was delayed by Mayor Partney, who at first refused to accept the action, saying there was no legal basis for it.

However, after a conference with City Atty. Allen and protests by Moerlein, who said such deferrals had been a past practice of the council, the mayor accepted the requests of the two aldermen.

The 40-page redistricting ordinance, outlining the boundaries of each ward, was read to the meeting agenda, and Rutledge sought permission of the council to present it. Permission was given by a vote of 10-5, and those dissenting were Whitmer, Bartosik, Dallas, Moerlein and Robertson.

Clays Could Be Used

As Iron Ore Pellet Binders

Tests conducted by the Illinois State Geological Survey have demonstrated that with properly prepared material, some Illinois clays could be used as binders in the commercial production of iron ore pellets.

Iron ore production is rapidly increasing in the U. S. and Canada and in the very near future there will be a demand for 500,000 to 400,000 tons of binder each year for the pelletizing plants.

Results of this research program show that Illinois clay producers should be in a very favorable position to compete with Wyoming bentonite for the binder markets in Missouri, eastern U. S. and Canada. Savings in shipping costs of bentonite would more than offset the cost of properly preparing the clay.

Since the 1950s iron ores that continued during 1967, according to Gov. Kerner, who went on to say that during 1966 Illinois was allocated to make them available for charging in to blast furnaces. The binder most used to date has been bentonite (a clay rock derived from the natural alteration of volcanic ash and dust) from Wyoming.

Fishing Facts Revealed

Fishing facts were revealed during a recent census by the Division of Fisheries personnel on nine state parks and conservation areas, the Illinois Department of Conservation has announced. The 8656 fishermen contacted caught over 24,000 fish in 23,900 hours of angling.

The census was set up on a statistical basis to cover every game day and every hour during the season. By a conservative estimate, it is shown that the state's 100,000 anglers drove less than an hour to reach a lake.

the expense of institutionalizing them.

An Illinois law passed in 1965 made compulsory the testing of all newborns in the state for PKU. Comprehensive screening started in May of this year. Prior to that time, the department had initiated and sponsored screening programs in many hospitals and started extensive educational and service programs.

During the three years the testing has been carried on in the state, 14 of 300,000 newborn infants were found to have phenylketonuria (PKU), a metabolic defect that allows excess quantities of an amino acid to build up in the blood. If the infant is not placed on a restricted diet, the defect can result in severe, irreversible mental retardation, Dr. Yoder said.

MATERIALS HANDLING equipment for the basic oxygen furnace plant at Granite City Steel is big and rugged to support the production of 220-ton heats of steel every 40 to 50 minutes. Inside the BOF plant are powerful transfer cars for scrap, hot metal and slag and electric overhead traveling cranes with capacity of five to 350 tons. In the foreground is the beginning of the structural steel framework for the three belt conveyors (463 feet long, 265 feet and 230 feet). Lime, limestone, fluorspar and other steelmaking fluxes will arrive in railroad gondola cars, be dumped in the track hoppers and moved by the conveyors to storage bins high above ground.

Mid-67 Completion Date for 3 Phases At GC Steel Co.

Granite City Steel Co. will complete three major new facilities this year as a result of the largest expansion and modernization program in relation to company size in the steel industry.

Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman of the board and president, said today the basic oxygen furnace plant with 30% more steelmaking capacity than the present open hearth furnaces it will replace is scheduled to begin operating in mid-1967.

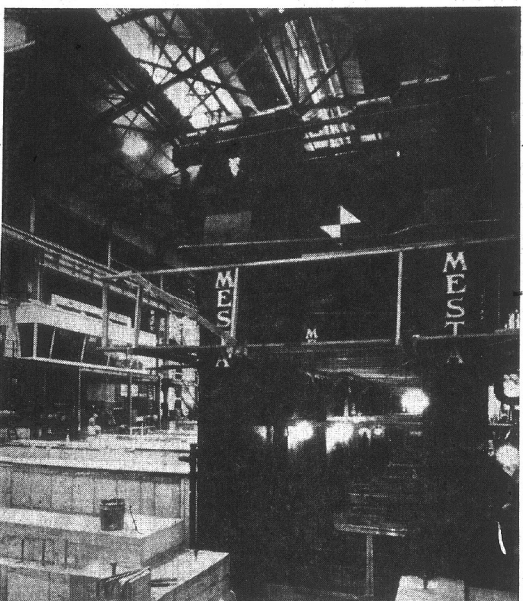

"It will allow very tight control of the quality of the carbon steel produced for our flat rolled products," he explained.

"An 80-inch, computer-controlled hot strip mill also is scheduled to go on stream in mid-1967," Veeder added.

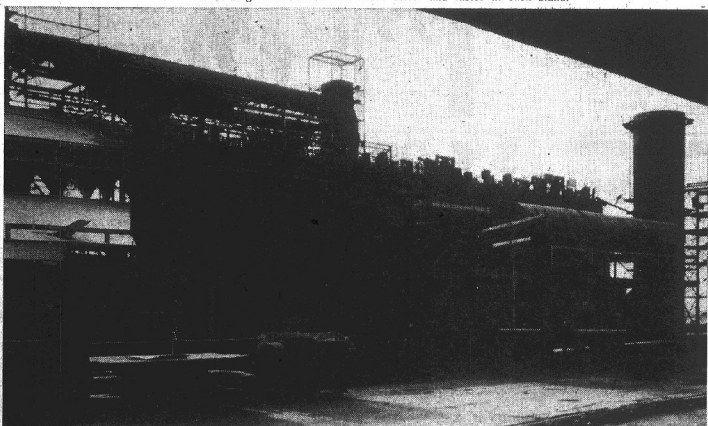

"It will replace a much smaller hot strip mill which has not been able to meet the demand for our products during peak periods in the last three years and will enable us to take full advantage of the growth in manufacturing in our midwest, south and southwest markets area. Product quality also will benefit," Veeder pointed out.

"Our third continuous galvanizing line will begin producing early this year. It will provide Granite City Steel with needed additional capacity for the production of flat and corrugated galvanized steel products."

"The local steel mill, which employs over 5500 persons, announced its multi-million dollar, three-year expansion and modernization program late in 1964.

STAND NO. 7, one of the key features of the 80-inch, computer-controlled hot strip mill under construction at Granite City Steel Co. The use of seven rolling stands in the finishing mill "train" instead of six is to obtain the ultimate measure of control over the shape of hot rolled products. The housing for stand No. 7 in finishing stands are spaced 18 feet apart and each housing is 28½ feet high and weighs 480 tons. Entering the first finishing mill, the steel will be an intermediate shape in the hot strip process known as a "bar"—up to 6½ feet in width and one inch or more in thickness. The steel will move faster and faster at each stand.

HEAVY PIPING AND STRUCTURAL STEEL FRAMEWORK is now in place for the $3,500,000 gas cleaning system designed to cool and clean the hot waste gases from steelmaking in the basic oxygen furnace plant at Granite City Steel Co. Shown are three double chamber electrostatic precipitators that occupy a structure almost as tall as a six-story building at the top of the BOF plant. The vertical structures are evaporation chambers which rest on top of water-cooled hoods above furnace. Connecting the units is a waste gas main, 13½ feet in diameter. After five seconds in the precipitators, the cleaned gas will leave through the stack at extreme right to be constructed to a height of 160 feet. The BOF plant is designed to meet state and local clean air laws.
